NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

GOOGLE LLC, Plaintiff,
v.
SONOS, INC.,
Defendant.

Case No. 20-cv-06754-WHA (DMR)

ORDER ON JOINT DISCOVERY LETTER

Re: Dkt. No. 455

The court has reviewed the January 23, 2023 joint discovery letter in which Sonos moves to strike “two sets of previously undisclosed theories in two discovery responses” served on the last day of fact discovery. [Docket No. 455.] While Google disputes Sonos’s contentions, it goes on to propose that Sonos take “a short deposition” related to Google’s unclean hands defense. It notes that Sonos “will have the opportunity to depose Google’s experts on the topic” of secondary considerations of non-obviousness “in the upcoming week.” Id. at 4, 5. Sonos did not respond to either point.

The parties shall immediately meet and confer to discuss solutions short of Sonos’ proposed remedy of striking the theories. The parties shall file a joint letter that does not exceed two pages setting forth the results of their meet and confer by no later than February 2, 2023.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
